

Julie K. Kwon is a Philanthropic Advisor with Stanford University. Julie works with the University's counsel and Office of Development in the management of charitable trusts, complex bequests and gifts and collaborates with donors and their professional advisors to fulfill donors' charitable objectives. She formerly was a partner in the Private Client Department of McDermott Will & Emery LLP; a Director in the Wealth Management Group of Bernstein Global Wealth Management developing research regarding the effect of investment volatility on wealth transfer; and fiduciary counsel and Legacy Planner for the Midwest Region for Bessemer Trust Company. She is the Vice-Chair of the Income and Transfer Tax Planning Group of the American Bar Association, Real Property, Trust & Estate Section. She is the past chair of the Estate and Gift Tax Committee, past co-chair of the Generation-Skipping Transfer Tax Committee and a founding co-chair of the Young Lawyers Network of the Section. She is a frequent speaker and author for professional organizations and publications, which have included Journal of Taxation and Trusts & Estates magazines, the Internal Revenue Service, the American Bar Association, the American Law Institute – American Bar Association and various regional organizations. She is admitted to the Illinois bar, and received her J.D. from Yale Law School and her B.A. from Stanford University.