

Mary Grace Diehl was appointed to the Bankruptcy Court for the Northern District of Georgia in February 2004. Prior to that time, she was a partner in the Litigation Section of Troutman Sanders LLP where she chaired the Bankruptcy Practice Group. She received her undergraduate degree in history summa cum laude from Canisius College in Buffalo, New York and her law degree cum laude from Harvard Law School. Judge Diehl has chaired the Bankruptcy Sections of both the Atlanta Bar Association and the State Bar of Georgia. She is a Fellow of the American College of Bankruptcy, was President of the Southeastern Bankruptcy Law Institute and chaired the Women In The Profession Committee of the Atlanta Bar Association. She received the Woman of the Year in Restructuring Award in 2008 from IWIRC (International Women in Restructuring Confederation). Judge Diehl serves as a Trustee of Canisius College and sits on the Emory University Board of Visitors. She is an Adjunct Professor of Law at Emory Law School. She is married to Michael Jablonski and they have two daughters, Elizabeth and Rebecca.